Alexis Chesney is a Naturopathic Physician, licensed acupuncturist and Lyme specialist. She works with adults and children with Lyme disease and co-infections. She studied under Richard Horowitz, MD at Hudson Valley Healing Arts Center in Hyde Park, New York. These topics will be addressed during her talk: Lyme prevention, testing, diagnosis, and treatment. Alexis believes that Lyme disease affects the whole person. Therefore, her treatment protocol is individualized to each person and includes pharmaceutical or herbal antibiotics, as well as support for the neuro-immuno-endocrine system.
